

Torquay had a sizzling start to their rugby season when they entertained Sidmouth on a scorching Sunday morning.

The first game was a 15-15 draw with some excellent scrummaging and lineouts in the first half. It was an even keel in the first half with only one try a piece, scored by Josh Lovell. The second half included some excellent rucking by Harrison Gill and Marley Tyler and some huge tackles were put in by Joshua Lovell and Thomas Roberts.

The second game allowed both Sidmouth and Torquay to utilise their whole squad to get on the pitch and use their skills which they have learnt in training and Torquay came off with a win of 35-15.

Tries came from James Allcock, Callum Fraser, Barney Reed(2), Thomas Roberts(2) and Harrison Gill.

The coaches were really pleased with their performance and commitment in both games and hope for the many more good games of rugby this season.
